

Name:

Joshua Joseph Raymond MD, MPH

Assistant Professor and Co-Director Geriatric Fellowship, CentraState Family Medicine Residency

Undergraduate Education and area of Study

University of California at Davis, Biology

Graduate Education:

Jefferson Medical College, MD

Tulane University, School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine, M.P.H

Residency:

Chestnut Hill Hospital/University of Pennsylvania Health System

Fellowship:

Geriatric Fellow, Robert Wood Johnson Medical School/ University of Medicine and Dentistry New Jersey, New Brunswick NJ, 1999-2000

Board Certification:

Diplomate, American Board of Family Medicine, 2005-2012

National Board of Medical Examiners, 1997

Certificate of Added Qualification in Geriatric Medicine, 2000-2010

Certified Medical Director, 2004-2010

Comments:

Dr. Raymond is active in local and regional nursing home and sub-acute rehab issues. Prior to his appointment as full time faculty, Dr. Raymond served as medical director for McCarrick care center this prepared him to train fellows to work in this multi-disciplinary environment. With his Co-director in the geriatric fellowship program at CentraState Medical Center they are actively training family medicine physicians to serve as hospital and community leaders.